'RABINDRANATHER BIGYAN BHABNA' is developed by National Council of Science Museums to highlight the generally overlooked aspect of the poet's rational and scientific bent of mind. Illustrated with photographs, anthology of quotations, anecdotal collections, interactive multimedia and other exhibits, the exhibition highlights the fact that, for Rabindranath, scientific truths were not mere abstractions and formulas, but were concrete living truths and guiding philosophies that inspired him to create great works of arts. He assimilated and internalized the scientific spirit and weaved it into the very fabric of his philosophy and his artistic creations.
